

There Is a Sea

1. There is a sea which day by day Re - ceives the rip - pling
 2. There is a sea which day by day Re - ceives a full - er 3. Which shall it be for you and me, Who God's good gifts ob - rills, And streams that spring from wells of God, Or fall from tide; But all its store it keeps, nor gives To shore nor tain? Shall we ac - cept for self a - lone, Or take to ce - dared hills; (1. But what it thus sea be - side; But what it thus re - ceives it give a - gain? It's Jor - dan stream, now turned to For He who once was rich in - re - ceives it gives With glad un - spar - ing, gives With glad un - spar - ing brine, Lies heavy as mol - ten deed Laid all His glo - ry

There Is a Sea

un - spar - ing hand: A stream more wide, A stream more wide, hand: A stream more wide, with deep - er lead; Its dread - ful name doth e'er pro - down; That by His grace, our ran - somed with deep - er tide, Flows on, flows on to low - er land.) tide, Flows on to low - er land. claim That sea is waste and dead.

race Should share His wealth and crown.

Rit...