

Your Time Is Coming, Friend

(Where Will We Be?)

Not too fast

1. Your time is com - ing, friend, my time is com - ing too, Judg - ment
2. Je - sus will gath - er all, faith - ful and faith - less too, Each one
3. Be - hold him on the throne, oh, what a sol - emn sight, Jus - tice
4. Par - don is of - fered you, ac - cept it while you may, On God's to at - tend; Re - cords will o - pen be, re - cords com - plete and true.

must at - tend; What will our re - cords say when they are bro't to view, He'll de - fend; Con - demned up - on His left, re - deemed up - on His right, love de - pend; Mer - cy will be no more, jus - tice will rule that day,

Refrain

Where will we be then, my friend? Oh, where will we be, on that day? Oh, you and I,

'tis a sol - emn thought, When the trum - pet sounds for you and me; When the trum - pet sounds

Your Time Is Coming, Friend

The image shows a musical score for the hymn "Your Time Is Coming, Friend". It consists of two staves: a treble clef staff for the melody and a bass clef staff for the accompaniment. The key signature has three flats (B-flat, E-flat, A-flat), and the time signature is 4/4. The melody begins with a half note G4, followed by a quarter note A4, a quarter note B-flat4, and a half note C5 with a fermata. The accompaniment starts with a half note G3, followed by a half note B-flat3, and then a series of chords. The lyrics are: "on that day, where will we be? you and I? A - men." The word "Amen" is split across two lines. A "Rit..." marking is placed above the final measure of the melody. The piece concludes with a double bar line.

Rit...

on that day, where will we be? you and I? A - men.
